

CHICAGO FLOWER & GARDEN SHOW

Tour 12088
Saturday • March 10, 2012

Inspirational. Visually Exciting. Dreamy. These are just a few of the words that begin to describe the gardens at the 2012 Chicago Flower & Garden Show at Navy Pier. The Midwest's first blush of spring — the region's only show of its kind — will feature an eye-candy array of floral and plant containers, horticultural and greening displays and stylized gardens.

Whether you have a suburban yard or a smaller urban plot, you'll be stimulated with a wide range of gardens and landscape styles. From exotic flowers and plants to more common foliage, paving stones, decks, ponds and much more, the gardens will be about variety blended with fantasy, yet practicality. You will experience sleek, lush and creative as well as — with a little imagination — the affordable. With its "Hort Couture" theme, the show's 25-plus well-appointed display gardens will draw inspiration from textures and colors found in plants and fabrics, as well as alluring and beautiful embellishments found in nature. Created and designed by acclaimed landscapers and horticultural professionals, the gardens will be exquisite, lush and quite simply make visitors say WOW!

You also get to view displays by more than 100 exhibitors of gardening, landscape and horticulture products and services showcasing sustainable and eco-friendly wares.

In the end, this 'spring collection' will inject a new sense of fun and style into your gardening. At a time of the year when you can't wait to get out into your garden, this show seeks to inspire you with color, texture and design for your own yard, patio or balcony, all presented in an entertaining and educational way after a long, cold mid-western winter.
