You asked for it — we heard you! Grab your shopping bags and walking shoes as we head for a day of non-stop shopping at the Warrens Cranberry Festival. This is not a tour for the weak-kneed shopper! We leave bright and early in the morning, taking only a short rest break before we arrive in Warrens to start our day of unparalleled marathon shopping!

Explore the Farm Market with over 100 vendors featuring fall produce, dried flowers, flavored honey, candy and of course, a wide variety of cranberry items. Power shop your way through the Antique & Flea Market showcasing approximately 350 vendors selling new merchandise, toys, collectibles, gloves, primitives, sports cards, fishing and hunting supplies, jewelry, leather, southwestern art, depression glass and crocks.

If you crave more shopping, the Art & Crafts Show offers more than 800 booths with vendors from all over the country. The booths are handpicked for their unusual and interesting art or craft. The Cranberry Festival is a great place to do some early Christmas shopping, too. In all, this festival boasts over 3 miles of booth frontage. Make sure you take a break for lunch and dinner to sample culinary delights from vendors serving a wide variety of American and ethnic foods sure to please any palate.

After spending over 7 hours shopping at the festival, we hop aboard our coach and let the driver chauffeur us home, stopping only for a short rest break along the way.
