

RAILS, SAILS & ALES GREEN BAY, WI

Tour 13378
Tuesday • June 20, 2017

We have a beautiful day in Green Bay in store today with our first stop at the National Railroad Museum for a guided tour. Led by a knowledgeable docent, we will tour the galleries and exhibits, ending in the spectacular Lenfesty Center where locomotives that have shaped the U.S. railroad history are housed. We also take a train ride around Cooke Park with our conductor narrating the ride.

Next we take a cruise on the Fox River on the marvelous River Tyme. This steel-hulled riverboat, first christened in 1953 as the Rose Lummis, has been brought to Wisconsin after spending many years touring the Finger Lakes of Upstate New York. Completely restored to her original glory, she will take us back in time to explore the history of our waterways while enjoying the beautiful banks of the Fox River. The River Tyme will be cruising from the James Street Wharf in DePere on a narrated tour recounting the history of the vessel and the waterways in our area.

Let's not forget the Ale (and food) part of our tour! A fantastic lunch will be served at a local Green Bay restaurant and our afternoon concludes with a beer tasting at one of Green Bay's new Tap Rooms to wet your whistle before departing on your journey home. L
